¹ In all 82 citations have been found during the period 2004-2009 (till July 2009) which have appeared in other refereed international journals. Since there are few automated search for citations available like Google Scholar and Scopus, the above citations were also found by conducting manual web search. Hence, there still exists possibility of exploring more citations through other means.

Research papers published by Dr. Rajagopal are also referred in various books, research reports and monographs which are not pooled by any sources and need to be manually accounted.
